CHINESE OFFER THEIR PROPOSALS

Consideration of Far Eastern Affairs by Conference Is Opened by Submission of Programme for China

OPEN DOOR POLICY IS MADE PROMINENT

Territorial Integrity and Independence Are Specified—Tentative Approval Is Given by Britain and United States

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The Washington conference today turned to consideration of Far Eastern questions with almost the same momentum with which it tackled naval armaments.

It was the Chinese delegates who led the way this time. In the committee of nine, on which all nations participating were represented, they produced a basis for discussion which represents their views.

The open sympathy of the United States with their position was at once manifest. British delegates supported it in many respects. The positions of the others were not so clearly defined, although members of the Japanese delegation have given expression of approval, in part at least, of China's "bill of rights."

In brief, China wants guarantees for territorial integrity and political and administrative independence; she proposes the open door for all in all parts of the country; she wants all spheres of influence relinquished; she wants no treaties made affecting her without being consulted.

May Affect Alliance

The full extent of China's position is much broader than this, but these are the essentials. The last feature may be construed as affecting the Anglo-Japanese alliance, although the British take an opposite view.

Today's session of the big nine was occupied with the presentation of China's view.

Immediately afterward, it became known that they commanded the moral support of the United States. The British viewpoints were known a little later. The Japanese did not state their reaction, previous pronouncements by some of their representatives have put them in line with some parts of China's proposals.

Discussion of Far Eastern affairs will be continued tomorrow. Meanwhile the committee of admirals appointed at yesterday's meeting of the big five is continuing its deliberations of the American naval proposals.

British Views

Four features of the official British viewpoint on China's proposals on the Far Eastern questions were emphasized tonight by the highest authorities.

Great Britain reiterates that she is in full agreement with the open door policy.

She regards the "spheres of influence" as antiquated and unsuitable to modern conditions.

The Panama Canal is not regarded as a specific question, and will not be urged on the consideration of the conference.

The Anglo-Japanese alliance is not regarded by the British as directly involved in the Chinese proposals for settlement of the Far Eastern question, although it may be drawn into the discussion later.

By the same authority it was said consideration of Far Eastern questions will proceed at once upon the basis of the proposals submitted today by the Chinese delegates. Topics set out in the Chinese plan will be referred to experts.

While the British viewpoint is that the Anglo-Japanese alliance is not directly involved in any of the Chinese propositions submitted today, the British would welcome an agreement between the great powers, or even one limited to the Far East, to replace it. It is founded on the feeling that there is need for some co-operative action to regulate conditions in the Far East in the interest of peace and prosperity.

Deceased was a native of Cape Breton, and had been married to her husband for the past ten years. She had a remarkable physique, and was very bright up to her last illness.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 16.—A tornado did considerable damage to property, but caused no deaths, struck about five miles east of Marshall tonight. Several houses and two stores were damaged. Many trees and telegraph and telephone poles were blown down.

Fort Smith, Ark., Nov. 16.—Over 5,000 bales have been destroyed and as many more may be lost in a fire raging at the Fort Smith Cotton Compress Company's plant here. The blaze was caused by lightning. Estimated loss at present is $500,000.

ESCAPED MEN STILL AT LARGE

Insane Criminals Have Bad Record—Police Watching Every Avenue of Escape From Island

John Lynn, alias Sylvester Flynn, convicted murderer, and Saylor A. Malone, adjudged insane while awaiting trial on a charge of highway robbery in Vancouver last year, escaped from the Wilkinson Road Asylum for the criminally insane at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning, after separately sawing through the four steel bars of their respective cells, overpowering guards, and calmly and methodically supplying themselves with food, clothing and a supply of razors.

Up to the hour of going to press this morning the men, who are known as desperadoes, and who are believed by the authorities to have successfully feigned insanity for the very purpose of attempting the escape they have now accomplished, were still at large. It is believed they are still on the island, and probably not far from the asylum. The asylum guards were in pursuit within half an hour of the overpowering of their colleagues, J. Walker, and officers of the Provincial police have been in full cry after the refugees during the 24 hours which have elapsed since the escape. Provincial Police officers returned yesterday afternoon after a search of the island as far north as Cobble Hill.

Possible Avenues Closed

All the avenues of departure from the city and island were carefully watched yesterday, but without any clue to the whereabouts of the desperadoes. The police officers believe that the men will attempt to steal a launch for their escape to the mainland. They are cool and desperate men. Lynn has already taken human life; while Malone is said to have sworn that he would never permit himself to be taken alive. The almost certain prospect that the man hunt will only be terminated with a mortal wound is supported by the fact that the men secured razors as the only available weapons of offence at the time of their escape, and by the probability that they will make use of their first business to secure more deadly weapons.

John Lynn was born in Ontario. His age is 48 years. He is described as wearing his fair hair to a length of six inches, so as to hide a bald crown. His eyes are blue, and his height is given as five feet seven inches. He was wearing a blue suit and blue sweater when he escaped. He carries a vaccination mark on his left arm, and the scars of gunshot wounds on his right forearm and left shoulder. His weight is 145 pounds.

Malone is 39 years old. He is of dark complexion, height five feet eight inches. His identification will be assisted by the fact that he carries many tattoo marks on his arms, these including a representation of the head of George Washington, a ship, a lizard, a sailor's head, an anchor, a dagger, a United States coat-of-arms, a cupid and other marks. He had seen service in the United States.

At 3 o'clock yesterday morning, as Night Guard J. Walker was making the rounds of the asylum corridors, he was suddenly set upon by the two men, gagged, overpowered and tied to a chair with ropes made from blankets cut into strips. They took his keys, pocket knife and fifty cents in money that were in his pockets, and while one of them watched him, the other ransacked the cloakroom and the dining hall, and took bread, matches, tobacco and two razors. They did not hurt Walker, nor did they lock the door on him when they left, and within ten minutes of their leaving he had escaped from his bonds and around the perimeter of Granby Farm. A few minutes later, and within half an hour of the first attack on Walker, the asylum guards had taken up the chase of the refugees.

Escape Long Planned

Evidence of the concerted and deliberate plans of the men to escape was left behind them in their cells. The windows of these were barred with four steel bars, three-quarters of an inch in diameter. In each

EFFECTING REPAIRS ON P.G.E. RAILWAY

VANCOUVER, Nov. 16.—It is expected that traffic will be reopened on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway between November 18 and 20, providing there is no drastic change in weather conditions. The Northern Construction Company is doing repairs to the road caused by the recent floods under the supervision of the Provincial chief engineer, A. F. Proctor.

In the meantime the railway company has been maintaining the mails along the road by the use of "Casey Jones" cars, small gas cars used by section foremen. Emergency supplies have also been carried to settlers by this agency. So far as known, officials of the road state no actual suffering has occurred through the cessation of traffic, although many have been put to considerable inconvenience.

A train left Lillooet Tuesday morning for Quesnel made up of freight transported from Lytton to Lillooet, and from Ashcroft to Clinton.

SAY CRITICISMS ARE UNFOUNDED

British Delegates at Washington Explain Position in Regard to Points Raised in Mr. Balfour's Speech

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The severe criticisms in certain leading British Liberal newspapers of what they regard as reservations proposed by the British delegation to the Hughes navy reduction proposals, are based upon a misconception of the actual attitude of the delegation, according to statements made here by representatives today.

The British representatives here, while emphasizing again their commitment to continuation of a small amount of naval construction during the ten-year holiday, and while pointing out that Arthur J. Balfour, the delegation head, in his speech on Tuesday developed strong objection to the construction of large submarines, and generally to the use of submarines at all in war, state that beyond that they are not positively committed in any substantial amount to the United States programme.

Regarding the plan of keeping one small naval building yard in operation in each country during the naval holiday, it is urged by the British experts that this is necessary in order to keep the ships in repair and perhaps to replace any ship that might be lost through accident.

CANADIAN EXCHANGE WILL REMAIN WEAK

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Discussing the Canadian exchange situation, The Wall Street Journal today says: "Bankers attribute the recent weakness in Canadian exchange to the falling off in demand for Canadian funds in New York. No Canadian loans have been placed here in the past few days, and most of the Canadian grain bought in this country has been paid for."

"Most bankers are not taking any definite position in Canadian exchange, simply satisfying their requirements from day to day. One banker, however, stated that he did not expect to see Canadian dollars at par for a considerable time, owing to the large amount of Canadian securities held in this country, and to the unfavorable condition of the American trade balance at the present time."

BRITAIN TO REDUCE PERSONNEL OF NAVY

LONDON, Nov. 16.—In connection with its policy of retrenchment in administrative expenditures, the British Admiralty has resolved to retire on pensions eighty naval captains and 200 commanders early next year, according to The Evening News today.

These retirements would not involve taking more ships out of commission. It was said, and if the Washington Conference agrees on the American naval restriction programme, further reductions in the Admiralty's personnel are contemplated.

DO NOT APPROVE SUBMARINE SIZE

U.S. Authorities Object to Proposal of British Naval Men to Fix Limit at 250 Tons—Present Dimensions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—British naval men here have suggested 250 tons as the limit of size for submarines. It was learned today that would represent a type of craft not existing in the first line of the American navy. It would go back to the days of the Grampus, the Pike, the Viper and the Tarantula, carried on navy lists as the A-5, A-6, B-1 and B-2.

These boats are the oldest in the navy, and are included in the second line group more as a type of self-protection, floating mines for harbor defence.

American second line submarines run up to the M-1, displacing 415 tons on the surface and 716 submerged. In the first line group of 34 boats the smallest is close to 500 tons on the surface, while the largest runs up to nearly 1,000 tons surface. These figures do not include the fleet submarines of approximately 2,000 tons.

It is apparent at a glance, officers say, that the United States hardly can accept any such limitations, yet a submarine of 500-ton type, similar to the ships with which the Germans did most of their work in the war, can cross the ocean, and is not within the limitations of operations the British seek to establish.

Compensation for Injuries

COURTNEY, B.C., Nov. 16.—The court today awarded damages in $2,500 to Alex. Munro, a logger, in his claim against the City of Vancouver. A fire truck swerving to avoid collision with a street car, ran up on a sidewalk and struck Munro, injuring him so that he spent many weeks in hospital.

Rates on Farm Products

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The association of railway executives, representing 201 railroads, today decided to put into effect a 10 per cent freight rate reduction on all farm products "as soon as possible."

PRINCE OF WALES REACHES BOMBAY

MONEY ALLOWANCE FOR HAPSBURG FAMILY

PARIS, Nov. 16.—The Council of Ambassadors today fixed the amount of the money allowance to be given to the former Emperor (Charles) of Austria-Hungary and his family, and the conditions under which this expense shall be taken over by the states succeeding to the Austro-Hungarian empire. Portugal is to be free from any charges.

The Associated Press learns that no amount has been set for the maintenance of Charles; only the principle of his support was discussed, with the idea that he should be treated in accordance with his one-time rank. A sum between 300,000 and 500,000 gold marks yearly has been mentioned as the probable amount.

Great Britain seems prepared to find the money for the support of Charles until arrangements are made with the former Austro-Hungarian states, and possibly Italy, for his support. No country, however, shows any inclination to shoulder the indebtedness of Charles in Switzerland. This still amounts to between 3,000,000 and 3,500,000 Swiss francs.

Verdict in Ogulnik's Case

FRANCE REPLIES TO SOVIET OFFER

Foreign Office in Note to British Embassy Says Proposals Afford No Basis for Bargain

PARIS, Nov. 16.—The note sent by the French Foreign Office to the British embassy here November 5, in connection with the telegram of George Tchitcherine, Russian Soviet Foreign Minister, announcing that the Soviet Government was prepared to recognize Russia's debt prior to 1914, was published today.

It declares that the Soviet Government is not making a concession which can be made the object of bargaining, but merely as applying a principle of universal right never contented by any government.

It is pointed out that Mr. Tchitcherine did not mention various financial obligations like war debts and municipal loans, pre-war loans to companies supported by the Russian Government, and debts to companies the property of which was confiscated by the soviet.

The note says soviet acceptance of international obligations should be marked by an abandonment of all Bolshevik claims, all interference in the internal affairs of other countries, and all subventions to organizations hostile to foreign governments or seeking to destroy the constitutions of other states.

Outcome of Important Conference at Liverpool Is Eagerly Awaited by Public—Meeting of Birmingham Unionists Approves Course of Government in Continuing Negotiations

ULSTER MEETINGS ARE SIGNIFICANT

Resolutions Express Determination Not to Submit to Domination of Sinn Fein—Unanimous Support for Sir James Craig's Action—Resignation of Attorney-General for Ireland

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Thomas Watters Brown, Attorney-General for Ireland, authorized the announcement tonight that he had resigned.

Development of the Irish negotiations now seems to hang upon the decision of the Unionist conference at Liverpool, and an indication of what this decision may be is seen in the meeting of Unionists of eleven divisions of Birmingham tonight, which adopted a resolution of "heartly approval of the efforts of the Government" to bring peace with Ireland by a conference with the representatives of Northern and Southern Ireland.

Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, has been in close touch with Andrew Bonar Law and other Unionist leaders in London today, but the delivery of Ulster's reply to the Government's proposals has been delayed until tomorrow.

The vote of confidence accorded Sir James Craig at Belfast tonight seems to authorize him to negotiate, as well as resist. The resignation of Attorney-General Brown also points to some new development. He would naturally resign if both Irish parliaments were functioning, but, although the Northern parliament will begin to function on November 22, the Dublin parliament cannot function, and Southern Ireland is still virtually administered from London. According to Belfast reports, Mr. Brown's resignation was due to his disagreement with the Government policy regarding Ulster.

Unionists at Liverpool

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 16.—A large number of Unionist leaders, including Austen Chamberlain, Government leader in the House of Commons, arrived here tonight to attend the conference of the Conservative party tomorrow. Most of the leaders who have arrived expressed themselves as being hopeful of achieving a settlement of the dispute between the two sections of the party over the Irish negotiations, despite the apparently great difficulties. They were also compelled to make premature disclosures regarding the progress of the negotiations.

The Unionist leaders are assuring the rank and file of the party that they insist upon the complete security of the British Empire and of Ulster. They appear to be more apprehensive of aggression on the part of Andrew Bonar Law and Sir Edward Carson, prominent Conservative leaders, than of any possible agitation by the so-called "debarths."

Ulster Loyalists

BELFAST, Nov. 16.—Ten thousand loyalists, in three meetings tonight, emphatically protested against the British Cabinet's transference of the question of Ulster to the conference of the Conservative party tomorrow. Resolutions to this effect were adopted unanimously. This included a resolution to vote against the principal meeting in the assembly hall, declared that Ulster never would be a vassal of a Sinn Fein parliament. Resolutions to this effect were adopted unanimously. This included a resolution to vote against the principal meeting in the assembly hall, declared that Ulster never would be a vassal of a Sinn Fein parliament.

The meeting had been arranged hurriedly, and the audience was consequently not large.

The Premier had heard, he said, that an effort had been made to get the people of this constituency to pledge themselves to vote against him. The reason given was that it was a farming constituency and that the farmers should stand together. He considered it unfair and dishonourable for his opponents to make this effort, especially when he was unavoidably absent from his constituency attending to the most important business which any man in the Dominion was ever called upon to shoulder.

Freight rates must come down, declared the Premier, dealing with unsatisfactory conditions which farmers had been called upon to face in recent years. The question of freight rate reduction was now before the railway commission. All indications at present were that there would be a material reduction in freight rates soon, said the Premier.

ACCIDENTAL SHOT KILLS OTTAWA LADY

OTTAWA, Nov. 16.—Mrs. Victor Pelletier, wife of Major Victor Pelletier, was shot and killed at her home this afternoon by the accidental discharge of a revolver in the hands of her husband.

Major Pelletier, who is widely known throughout Canada, was formerly aide-de-camp to four Lieutenant-Governors, Sir P. Pelletier, Sir Charles Langstaff, Sir Xavier LeBlanc, and for a time to Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, the present Governor. He resigned from the service of Sir Charles Fitzpatrick about three years ago to accept the position of superintendent of the Parliament Buildings. An inquest will be held.

BULGARIA FULFILLS TERMS OF TREATY

SOFIA, Nov. 16.—The period allowed in the ultimatum of the Allied council of ambassadors for disbandment of the Bulgarian regular army and institution of a volunteer force has expired, and the Inter-Allied military commission has begun checking up the army cadres throughout the country.

The Government declares it has discharged all conscripted soldiers and limited the volunteer force to the figure fixed in the treaty of Neuilly. Under the provisions of the treaty Bulgaria has delivered 1,000 railroad cars to Serbia.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due to the presence of an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things: Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion, or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of excess or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bismarck's Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bismarck's Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a detergent. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthily. You need of peptic pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bismarck's Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate, and in the liquid form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

BANDITS HOLD UP LIQUOR VENDOR

Government's Store at Grand Forks Visited by Two Men Who Secure Day's Cash Takings of $200

GRAND FORKS, B.C., Nov. 16.—Robert Campbell, vendor at the Government local liquor store here, was held up at the liquor shop last evening by two strangers and secured a point of a gun required to hand over some $200, which had been the cash takings of the day. Neither of the thugs was named, but the holdup was crudely pulled off, the two men proceeding to walk quietly down the street, after leaving the building, according to those claiming to have seen them.

Chief of Police Savage and Provincial Constable Killam were on the trail within a few minutes. Savage located the men in the west end about 3 a.m. and had a running gun fight with them around the Boundary Iron Works, but the men made good their escape. A hurried call was sent to the R. C. M. P. barracks, but the entire staff except two constables had been called elsewhere earlier in the day.

The Government liquor store is located only half a block from the post office, but the time selected was when all citizens were at dinner and the street quiet. Stores close at 6, but the liquor store keeps open until 7.

COMPANY NEEDS SOME CHANGES

Mr. Murrin, on Behalf of B.C. Electric, Makes Statement Before Conciliation Board—Running at Loss

VANCOUVER, Nov. 16.—The B. C. E. R. Company is running its transportation system at a loss. Conditions must come back to normal, and it is not for the company to make changes, but from sheer necessity, said W. G. Murrin, in answering some of the men's arguments against altering any clauses of the present agreement before the conciliation board today.

The question of extra pay for putting in coupon reports on the New Westminster lines was the first point brought up for discussion today. Fifteen minutes were spent on this, and in these reports was small remuneration for the services rendered, declared Mr. Cottrell, who handled the men's case. Mr. Murrin pointed out that this fifteen minutes pay amounted to more than seven per cent of the total amount taken in by the coupons. This was unreasonable, he declared, maintaining that it was only part of the routine duties of the men to put in this report. No extra pay should be given for this, he argued, saying that it was wrong in principle and should be abolished.

Dealing with the signing up for freight service, Mr. Cottrell advocated that the men should not be compelled to sign up for more than one month at a time, instead of the present system of a three months' contract. The proposed six months' contract, against this Mr. Murrin declared that it was not good to keep swapping men around from one run to another.

Passes on the Fraser Valley line were the reason for a lengthy debate. Mr. Murrin wanted these abolished as otherwise the company would have no authority over the privileges he was giving.

It was finally decided that the men should be allowed to travel free on this line except on Sundays and holidays. "This company supplies free transportation for union officials who make trouble for the company. That does not seem reasonable," Mr. Murrin stated.

Double pay for overtime work brought up considerable argument. Mr. Cottrell advocated the cutting down of all overtime work as far as possible, to conform with the eight-hour day.

But, he maintained, adequate compensation should be given for overtime work when this had been done, and he contended that double pay was only reasonable for men in the mechanical department. Mr. Murrin stood very firm on this point. Double pay is given in the street railway company he declared, neither is it the rule in private engineering organizations in the city. "The process of getting out of normal conditions is now under way," he said.

"During the war, the men were able to insist on this double time, but now the company can't possibly pay it. It is wrong on its merits."

Next on the list for discussion was the question of seniority of new employees. Mr. Murrin was quite willing that these should join the union as soon as they wished, but he did not want any seniority to come in force among them until they had served three months with the company, so that he would be in a position to judge who was suitable and who was not suitable for permanent employment. Under the existing conditions, once a man was hired, he could not be discharged without inefficiency being proved, provided that the job was a permanent one in which it was engaged. Mr. Murrin contended that this was unfair to the company, and this point was conceded by Mr. Cottrell on behalf of the men.

JUGO-SLAVIA ACCUSED OF COVENANT BREACH

PARIS, Nov. 16.—The Council of the League of Nations met here this afternoon to consider the first accusation of covenant breaking since the league came into force. The case was that of Jugo-Slavia, whose troops have been charged by the British Government with invading the territory of another league member—Albania.

Jugo-Slavia has not yet accepted the recent decision of the Allied Council of Ambassadors outlining the frontiers of Albania.

BANDITS MAKE RAID ON LIQUOR WAREHOUSE

REGINA, Nov. 16.—Six masked bandits arrived in motor cars at Carnduff last night and stole sixty cases of liquor from the Regina Wine and Spirits wholesale liquor warehouse. The bandits came from across the international border, and before proceeding to carry out the robbery cut the telephone wires at the liquor warehouse.

The employees in the warehouse were lined up against the wall and covered with guns by two of the bandits, while the others loaded the liquor.

The American authorities have been communicated with, and every effort is being made to head the bandits off.

ENDS IN CAPTURE OF ROY GARDNER

Attempted Mail Car Robbery at Phoenix, Ariz., Results in Placing McNeill Island Fugitive Behind Bars

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 16.—A bandit captured here last night at the Santa Fe station, following an attempt to rob a mail car, was identified by finger prints today as Roy Gardner, who recently escaped from the federal penitentiary at McNeill Island, Wash. According to the police, Gardner admitted his identity.

Police this morning said that while there was nothing of unusual value in the mail on board the car attacked last night, a local bank planned to ship $15,000 from here today, and they believe the would-be robbers had been tipped off to the shipment, but got the wrong train.

Police officers also attempted to identify the prisoner as Gardner by a wound in the leg which he was reported to have received from the gun of a guard when he escaped from McNeill Island. The police were unable to find the wound, and the prisoner maintained that none of the shots fired by the guards struck him.

The mail car attacked last night was on Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe train No. 170. The robber boarded the car ten minutes before the train was to leave for Los Angeles, and it is the theory of local officers that he intended to ride to a nearby station, where they believe he had accomplices waiting for him.

Herman Indelford, of Phoenix, clerk in charge of the car, said he was not looking when the robber got into the car, and that the first he knew of the other's presence was when he felt a gun pressed against his body and turned around to find a masked man holding a revolver against his chest. The man, who is said to be five feet ten inches tall, and weighs about 115 pounds, struck his assailant, took him away from him and then sat on his arm while he waited for officers to respond to his call. Then the bandit was taken to the county jail, where he said he was "R. P. Nelson, of Chicago."

While Indelford was holding his prisoner, the latter said: "Well, you've earned your $5,000 tonight," referring to a standing reward offered to mail clerks for the capture of mail bandits.

Gardner refused to talk about his escape from McNeill Island. He admitted his identity, but when questioned about his escape, he said: "I'm not going to tell you any more than I have to. What do you think I am, a fool?"

Gardner told the police officers that he had lived here for three weeks, staying at a hotel and driving about the streets of the city in his automobile. He blamed the failure of his attempt to escape on the fact that he married, a white man, was in charge of the car, instead of the negro mail clerk that Gardner thought would be in charge. He said he was confident the negro would have obeyed the command to put up his hands.

Gardner confirmed the police theory that he intended to try to get the $15,000 he believed was to be shipped, but he denied that he had any accomplices.

Gardner will not be tried for the attempt to rob the mail car, but will be sent to Leavenworth, Kansas, to finish serving sentences which were hanging over him when he escaped from the federal prison at McNeill Island on September 5, according to announcement made tonight by Thos. Flynn, United States District Attorney here.

Mr. Flynn said he had asked the Department of Justice at Washington whether to prosecute Gardner for that night's escape, and he had been instructed to have Gardner transferred to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth.

MOORE JAW, Oct. 16.—Canadian Pacific investigation authorities here when notified today that Roy Gardner had been captured, declared that they were still convinced that Gardner robbed train No. 4 on the morning of October 13.

Arizona Man Was Simply Down and Out and Could Not Even Move Himself—Feels Fine Now.

Harry E. Scott, a well-known mine boss, whose address is Box 883, Tombstone, Arizona, writes: "I was down and out nearly all the time with rheumatism and finally got to where I couldn't move, even to feed myself. My wife thought I would never get well again, and she knew my condition better than anyone else."

"I was absolutely helpless when my wife started me on Tanlac and in four days I ate a hearty meal for the first time in many months. Tanlac put me on my feet and I'm back on the job working as long with the perfit of mine. I have gained eighteen pounds in weight, too."

MR. CRRER ENDS TOUR IN ONTARIO

Addresses Meeting at Barrie and Leaves for Winnipeg—Has More to Say Against Tariff Protection

BARRIE, Ont., Nov. 16.—Hon. T. A. Crrer concluded his Ontario campaign with a meeting at Barrie last night, and afterwards left for Winnipeg. The Progressive leader, discussing criticism of the Progressive movement, attacked those "who worship the things that have been and are afraid of the things that are now."

His salary as president of the United Grain Growers, he said, was not an issue in the present election, although Government supporters sought to make it so.

"The Government," Mr. Crrer added, "is so barren of argument, that it grasps at any straw it thinks will help." He declared that the criticism of H. W. Wood, president of the United Farmers of Alberta, was intended to arouse prejudice against the Progressive movement and to excite anti-American feeling.

He characterized the Prime Minister as the high priest of protection in the present election, and said that there must be no lowering of the tariff.

In Mr. Crrer's view the time had come when protection no longer met the vital needs of Canada. There had never been a greater "imposture" than the argument that protection found home markets for the Canadian farmer.

"You can have protection doubled for a country," he emphasized, "and instead of creating a home market for farmers, it will kill the farmer. Protection is not helping agriculture," declared Mr. Crrer. "It is stifling agriculture."

MR. W. F. WATSON HAS LIBEL SUIT

Prominent London Radical Takes Proceedings Against Duke of Northumberland and Morning Post

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The Duke of Northumberland, The Morning Post and its editor, H. A. Gwynne, were defendants yesterday in a libel action in the King's Bench Division. The plaintiff was W. F. Watson, chairman of the North London unemployed council, who conducted his own case.

The alleged libel was contained in an article published by the Duke in The Morning Post in August, 1920, entitled "Bolshevik Plot in England," which referred to Watson's unimpaired reputation and declared that Watson had been a member of the nucleus of 200 soviet and had corrupted many Irish soldiers.

The plaintiff, who declared the allegations were untrue, was cross-examined regarding his political activities in this connection. He admitted he was still endeavoring to bring about a new constitution in England through councils or soviets which would usurp the functions of parliament.

Watson admitted writing a pamphlet in 1914 regarding workers' organizations in the munitions factories in which he said: "If we had half the grit of the old trade unionists and Chartists there would be some silt gizzards in Park Lane."

He also admitted that he had received money from Scotland Yard for reports on Bolshevik activities, but declared he intended to deceive the authorities and took their money to use in the workers' movement. He said he had sent the Scotland Yard authorities a "lot of waddle."

MR. BOOTH HOLDS HOME MEETING

Nanaimo Citizens Give Hearty Reception to Liberal Candidate—Defines Position on Oriental Immigration

NANAIMO, Nov. 16.—Thomas Booth, Liberal candidate for Nanaimo riding, was given a splendid reception at his first meeting in his home town here tonight, the Opera House being practically filled. In opening, Mr. Booth stated that the real fight was between Mr. Dickie and himself, as he considered Mr. Pritchard's chances as nil. In fact, he stated, when he gets past New-Castle, if Mr. Pritchard gets 1,000 votes he will be doing well.

"Mr. Dickie has admitted on the platform that the Meighen Government has made mistakes," declared Mr. Booth, "but he says battle for Meighen and not Dickie. We are ready to accept that challenge, and Mr. Dickie must take full blame for his party."

Mr. Booth then gave a history of the Union Government. He told of the number of by-elections which had gone against the Government in recent months, stating that in constituencies in which the Government had been successful it was due to voting being split by three candidates being in the field. He stated that there was not a Conservative Government in Canada today, and in all the provinces there were only 19 Conservative members as against 231 Liberals.

In dealing with the Oriental question Mr. Booth stated that he stood for total exclusion of Orientals in future and expulsion of those who are already here as soon as possible. He dealt at length with the perils of the Oriental citizens, reading extracts from Japanese papers in which it was stated that Japan's emigration policy was mainly for the purpose of finally securing control of the coun-

Sir John Simon, counsel for the Attorney-General, described the case as being the outcome of a long and difficult inquiry concerning the Parliament Buildings of Manitoba, giving in detail the whole history of the matter and alluding to various allegations of misfeasance. The present proceedings, he said, were in the nature of a challenge by the Kellys, the contractors, to the findings of the board of appraisers.

Lord Parmoor asked whether the appraisement in this case meant the valuation as distinct from the arbitration.

Sir John Simon replied that the authority under which the board of appraisers was constituted excluded the Manitoba Arbitration Act.

PROTECTIVE TARIFF NEEDED BY CANADA

Mr. A. C. Noakes Speaks to Women's Meeting at Pantages Theatre Yesterday Afternoon

"Our opponents say if they are elected they will give free trade. On the other hand, Premier Meighen tells you, without apology, regardless of what you might think, that if elected my policy is one of a moderate tariff so that the industries and wealth of Canada may be retained wholly and solely for the benefit of Canadians, and ultimately, for the benefit of the British Empire."

In this first reference to Mr. Meighen's avowed intention, Mr. A. C. Noakes yesterday afternoon, at Pantages Theatre, briefly defined the policy of the present Government, and tariff versus free trade in the coming Federal campaign. His subject was announced as "Tariff versus Commercial Suicide." Miss Lottie Bowron, at the invitation of the organizers of the meeting, occupied the chair, and with her on the platform, additional to Mr. Noakes, were Mr. Alexander Thomson, Mrs. S. F. Talmie, and the vocalist of the afternoon.

Miss Bowron, in opening the meeting, made a brief appeal to the ladies who formed the major part of the audience, to show themselves worthy of their recently-won privilege of the franchise by exercising the vote and shouldering the responsibilities of citizenship, which had come with the ballot.

Mr. Alexander Thomson recalled that history was divided into three periods: Before the war, during the war, and after the war. The third state had now been reached, and people should be prepared to throw aside their old party bickerings and think of things on their independent merits. Premier Lloyd George was quoted as saying last year: "Let us stand together once more until we have removed those difficulties which stand in the way of humankind reaching higher peaks." Mr. Meighen, the Canadian Premier, was quoted to the same end: "I stand for unity in Canada; my aim and objects will be to hold the balance fairly and firmly between all classes."

"Rally Round To Me," "I think," said Mr. Thomson, "we might very well adopt as one of the rallying cries of the present campaign 'Rally round To Me' for unity in Canada and fair play for all!"

Some people did not believe in coalition government, but it had the advantage, for one thing, of having the pick of the best brains of all parties, whether Liberals, Conservatives, Labor or the Farmer party. At the present time, he said, it was essential that all the old party prejudices should be put aside. All public-spirited people, of whatever party, should unite, and seek to promote the interests of the country as a whole.

In commencing his address Mr. Noakes appealed to the ladies for serious consideration of the policies at stake in the "great and momentous election which is so soon to be upon us." Although an Englishman by birth, he had come to regard Canada, after many years' residence here, as his home, and he believed that this Dominion was fated to play a great and important part in the history of the Empire.

Free Trade vs. Common Sense
Mr. Noakes briefly stated that the issue of the present political campaign was free trade versus moderate tariff for the protection of Canada. This was the gist of the issue in the coming election.

"Will you vote for a policy of destruction or a policy of construction?" he asked. He had "visited every part of the British Empire, and he had no hesitation in saying that Canada was in possession of the most unique privileges of any part of that Empire. He reminded his audience how slight had been this country's consciousness of the war in so far as it was concerned on the one hand, and the sacrifice of many of our best men and women in the war on the other. Some measure of praise must be given to those men who assumed office during the most trying period in the history of the world, and who took hold of the responsible task of government with foresight and a determination that the people of Canada must be spared as far as possible from experiencing the privations and sufferings which were part of the war's accompaniments in other countries.

Fortunate Canada!
"And what have they left you?" asked the speaker. "Canada today stands eminently in the greatest and most fortunate position of any country in the world." Sir Robert Borden, Premier Meighen, Dr. Talmie, in their political life had been moved by the same high principles, the same noble impulses of patriotism which had moved the men of Canada to join the army of the Empire in its fight for justice and right.

"Pause and think before you substitute a party whose bounden policy is to undo that prosperous condition which Canada today is enjoying," warned the speaker.

dumped their surplus in the Canadian market at a still lower price.

"Any woman knows that the only way to develop the resources of Canada is to support the industries of Canada. Paralysis must eventually settle on your country if you do not support your own industries," maintained the speaker. "The whole circle of prosperity is enlarged when you spend money for manufactures produced within your own boundaries."

Production vs. Wages
Mr. Noakes pointed out that production was higher in the United States, Germany, and many other places. But wages were lower there than in Canada, and the conditions of life in those countries were not so good as in this country. Personally, he knew of no place in the world where the citizen of the day as well as they were doing right here in Canada.

"This is an agricultural country, undoubtedly, but no country can subsist on agriculture alone. It must have 'manufactures.' It must have 'the three W's'—wages, work, and welfare. When wages were high and goods were scarce the purchasing power of money was low. Canadians aimed to make their standard of living the highest in the world. And the policy of a moderate tariff, which was being advocated, was one of the important things to this end.

"Wages, whether high or low, can only be assured to the worker if the industry is protected against foreign competition," he continued, quoting Josh Billings, to show that Canada's goods were also "the three W's": plenty of work, plenty of wittles and plenty of wages."

"We want to see a big line of smoking chimneys right across the Continent," added Mr. Noakes. "Protection had its compelling influence in commanding the American and British manufacturer to bring his money into this country to establish his industries on Canadian soil. Canada today possessed over 600 American firms, which had brought their money here and had set up business in this country; over 150 British firms had done likewise. This meant the employment of Canadian labor, the spending in Canada of money which had been circulated through these factories."

Tried and True
Speaking of the Victoria member, Hon. Dr. Talmie, Mr. Noakes referred to him as a man tried and true.

"It is foolish in crossing a stream to change horses; in swopping political horses you might get a jolter," he warned.

During the war the people united well to achieve a common end. Today there was need to fight again. Peace there might be on the battle-field; but peace there was not in the commercial world. It was every Canadian citizen's duty to see that Canada did not become retrogressive. America, the richest country in the world as to actual hard gold, had again raised her tariff. If protection was good for America, it was surely good for Canada; too, a protective tariff that would protect Canadian industries and Canadian workmen.

Thanks by Miss Bowron to the two speakers, and by Mr. Thomson (on behalf of the meeting) to the chairman, concluded the meeting.

HISTORY'S LESSONS

Mr. A. J. Balfour, Britain's representative at the Washington Conference, voiced the feeling of every patriotic citizen of this Empire when he drew the Conference's attention to a fact affecting his country's existence which is not to be overlooked by those who have a proneness to consider that conditions governing our safety may be left to the deliberation and decision of interests other than ourselves. In dealing with the American proposals for a reduction of armaments, he accepted them on behalf of Great Britain as forming a basis for discussion, but, in language that is incapable of misapprehension, he told the people of the United States and the assembled international delegates why Britain considers strength at sea necessary to her safety. After pointing out that the United States stands "solidly impregnable, with the lines of its communication protected, completely protected, from any conceivable hostile attack," he went on to say:

"It is not merely that you have 110,000,000 people; it is not that you are the wealthiest nation. The geographical position of your country makes you wholly immune from the perils to which the British Empire is subjected. Suppose your Western States were suddenly removed 10,000 miles across the sea; suppose you found that the heart of your country was a small and crowded island depending on overseas trade, depending on overseas communication for raw materials. Suppose your population never had more than seven weeks' food, and that this had to be replenished from overseas. Then you will understand why it is that every citizen of the British Empire, no matter where he lives, cannot forget that it is by sea communication that he lives; that without it he cannot live."

There is evidence that a great number of people have been worked up into a state of pious enthusiasm over the Washington Conference, and this state of mind has been emphasized since the definite proposals for a reduction in naval armaments were put forward. This misguided enthusiasm could be carried to a point where the British peoples, for the sake of mythical benefits, would be ready to sell their birthright for a mess of pottage. The uninformed and impulsive have a tendency to forget, in the face of the American proposals, that there are historical principles for which the British Navy stands, irrespective of its necessity as an instrument for the protection of this Empire. Those principles have been the means, time and again, of saving civilization from the shackles of tyrants, and they have contributed to the spread of free institutions, not only throughout the Empire, but throughout the world. Great Britain is an island and the heart of a maritime Empire and she has had, has now, and always will have potential foes. The recent struggle against Prussia should have awakened every part of the Empire to the supreme importance of sea-command. That it has not is shown by the apparent desire in some quarters to accept unreservedly the nostrum of a "foreign power" as to the strength of our Navy in the future, a strength which might, not inconceivably, leave future generations an impression that its glories and traditions are but legendary.

It should not be necessary to remind any section of the British peoples that, in the past, command of the sea has preserved British liberties and British homes. The material benefits it has bestowed are immeasurable, and the moral and intellectual gain, inspired by the knowledge that while sea power is maintained no part of British lands can be invaded successfully, is beyond all calculation. Those are considerations worthy of note and not to be lightly sacrificed at the bidding of any council of all-British in its composition. With the principle of a reduction in armaments there is full accord, as Mr. Balfour pointed out at the Washington Conference. The putting into effect of that principle should be on a proportional basis gauged according to responsibilities of the Powers affected. What those responsibilities are it is for each Power to decide, and if, after decisions are made, there can be a co-operative plan of action outlined which will have a measure of elasticity so that when crises arise they can be met, then there will be substantial hope that expenditures on armaments may be reduced. So far as the British Empire is concerned, it possesses the asset in sea power which has made the Empire possible. We are very much mistaken if the race is yet ready to dispense with the naval lessons which are contained in the most glorious pages of British history.

CAMPAIGN OF CRITICISM

The campaign being conducted by Mr. Mackenzie King is largely one of destructive criticism. This is a matter of surprise, because the Liberal leader has had governmental experience and should know that the people are more concerned with what is going to be done in the future than with the record of the past. Mr. King attacks the Prime Minister because the Government carried on in the country after Sir Robert Borden resigned. His criticism was the same for Sir Robert Borden because he did not appeal to the country just as soon as Mr. King himself was installed as the leader of the Liberal Party. He criticizes national ownership of railways, although it was the Liberal policy in arranging for their construction in advance of the needs of the country which made it necessary for them to be taken over by the people. He does not approve of a Federal merchant marine. He has criticism for appointments to the Senate, and he vigorously attacks the Government because there is a small naval appropriation to provide for the maintenance of a light cruiser and a couple of destroyers which were a gift of Great Britain to the Dominion.

Mr. Mackenzie King is careful in his avoidance of saying what he will do if elected to office. The main issue of the tariff he has dealt with only in generalities. He has promised a revision downwards, but at the same time says that in whatever is done he will be guided by his supporters, which would mean the representatives of that Province from which the bulk of his votes is expected to come. He says that the Liberal policy affecting taxation is based on the needs of the home. We can tell him that in British Columbia, in Provincial Liberalism, that policy is not followed. What may be meant by the needs of the home is capable of being interpreted in all sorts of enigmatic definitions, but Mr. King would find if he were Prime Minister of the country that he would have to make provision to meet the interest on and sinking funds of the national debt and to provide the costs of administration and capital expenditure as is being done today, and, however he would do it, the people would suffer from taxation just the same.

The Liberal leader's policies are of the nebulous variety and subject to change in terminology in whatever Province he is speaking. In Alberta he does not dwell on the tariff issue, so far as the Liberal attitude is concerned, but he does attack the protective principle because he knows that method of speech will appeal to the farming constituencies. What Mr. King has yet failed to tell the people is what tariffs there are that are not protective, and from which a government of Liberals would hope to derive revenue. All Mr. King's strictures on the present Government would tend to argue he is conveniently forgetting that there ever was such a happening as the Great War. When it was fought and the tanks of Canada's divisions overseas were being thrived by the deadly conflict, Mr. King was among those who did not foresee the necessity of throwing the whole country's strength into the struggle. He says now that the expenditure on the maintenance of a few minor naval vessels is unconstitutional, and, apparently, he has a particular objection to those vessels paying a visit to the naval base at Esquimalt. Mr. King is seemingly opposed to a policy of naval defense, or it may be that his criticism in this regard is on all fours with the chief theme of his election speeches, which constitutes an attack on the Government for its every action in recent years. We are inclined to think the people of Canada are much more anxious to learn what Mr. King would do if elected to power, than to listen to tirades after tirades of criticism of what others have done, or attempted to do, in order to keep up the honor and the welfare of the Dominion during and since the Great War.

NEED OF CO-OPERATION

The various municipalities of the Province, and particularly those which are suffering most in a financial sense, will have to consider anew what steps can be taken towards alleviating the present taxation so that peace is levied on the future can be collected. The relief anticipated from the Legislature is not within sight. Far from recommending that the course followed by the delegates of the Union of B. C. Municipalities in withdrawing from any negotiations on the subject with the Provincial Government should be emulated, our suggestion would be that more intensive pressure than ever before be brought to bear. The solution of the whole municipal problem in British Columbia lies in co-operation between the municipalities and the Government. The former recent being blamed by the Government for the financial impasse that has been reached, and we agree with them that there is nothing to be gained by that course. They know, and the people are fully aware of the fact, that extravagant municipal expenditures are as much the fault of the Province as of the municipalities, for the Local Improvement Act, which is mainly to blame, is a measure of the Provincial Legislature. These each any time during the past ten years the Government could have stepped in, and, by advice, or by legislation, it could have prevented the piling up of new municipal obligations, enforced economy and seen to it that municipal sinking funds were kept intact. Since the Legislature has to assume this blame it ought to be over anxious at the present time that a remedy should be found for the situation occasioned through its own laxity.

The Province has as much at stake in the credit and financial welfare of its municipalities as the municipal governing bodies. The prosperity of the Province, in an area such as British Columbia, where some 45 per cent of the population is within organized territory, is bound up with the development of the cities. It is from municipalities that the greater proportion of the taxation—Dominion, Provincial and municipal—is derived. It is more important in British Columbia than in any Province of the Dominion that there should be a readjustment of taxation as between the Provincial Government and the municipalities, for the latter are obviously enjoying anything but what should be their share. Under the existing system of taxation the Province is bleeding the municipalities, and the policy is one of the reasons for unemployment. Business instincts should dictate a coming together of the rival taxation interests and the formulation of a policy which will be fair to both the Province and the municipalities, and which will insure to the advantage of British Columbia as a whole. There has been a dog in the Provincial Government's tail, and it has justly incensed the representatives of municipalities. The time for any petty outlook on the situation has passed, and the Government and municipalities should work in harmony with a sole eye to what is for the best in the Province.

VANCOUVER'S PRIVATE BILL BEFORE HOUSE

Private Measure Occupies Entire Attention of Legislature at Yesterday Afternoon's Session

Very little was done in the Legislature yesterday afternoon, the entire session, one which was devoted to the consideration of Vancouver's private bill.

From 2 o'clock until 5 o'clock the House was called upon to attend to the needs of the city of Vancouver. The Vancouver charter amendments, which were before the House at the last session and were sidetracked owing to the financial amendments contained therein, have been recently lined down to the present session.

The financial requests from the Terminal City have been eliminated, following the Government's policy of financial assistance to the municipalities, and the bill as now framed, is practically innocuous.

Despite the importance of the business before the House, the Vancouver bill was given the right-of-way yesterday in an effort to get it through the committee stage. One hundred and thirty amendments were read, and wherever a contentious point arose it was left over for further consideration.

The bill, one of the bulkiest to come before a session in many years, will require several sessions to complete. In view of the Government's inability to get ahead with other business, the Vancouver bill comes as a relief. It will act as a stop-gap until the Administration is ready to go ahead with its measures.

Transportation problems of Vancouver came up when Captain Ian Mackenzie introduced his amendment to give Vancouver the power to establish and operate motor bus lines for the transportation of passengers and freight. This amendment was introduced while the Vancouver Consolidation Act was before the committee on its second reading.

Mr. Bowser asked whether any power was being given Vancouver City to compel the British Columbia Electric to give a street car service on streets in districts where the people demand it? He said that petitions and requests had been coming in from residents of Kitilano and Fourth Avenue, for instance, claiming that their transportation facilities are inadequate.

Vancouver members explained that it was understood that Vancouver officials and representatives of the British Columbia Electric were to get together on a compromise in connection with granting the right to the city to compete with the British Columbia Electric by means of motors. Members of the private bill committee said that the clause to give the city the right had been dropped by the private bill committee, but had been brought in now by way of an amendment, so that it would have to be decided on the floor of the House.

Will Talk Later
Mr. R. H. Pooley, of Esquimalt, said he would have something to say later when the Mackenzie amendment comes up to cut in on the British Columbia Electric franchise rights.

Whether the Vancouver City Council should have the final say on the renewal should be voted on by the people themselves, was also discussed by members of the House. The bill, as it stands at present, says that the City Council shall pass on the renewal without a vote of the people.

Mr. G. S. Hanes, independent member for North Vancouver, said that the people of Vancouver should have the right to vote on the renewal of the franchise.

Mr. Bowser explained that the clause was put in at the last session by way of a compromise between the British Columbia Electric and the City Council. He urged that it be made quite clear and definite now, before the bill is passed.

It was decided to stand over all the sections dealing with the British Columbia Electric until the Mackenzie amendment is finally discussed.

MAYOR MAY HAVE CONTEST AFTER ALL

Mr. William Marchant and Three Others are Prospective Candidates, Although None is Positive

Mayor Robert J. Porter is still without opposition for a fourth term, but there is still nearly a month to go before the election, and discussion is becoming steadily more active respecting prospective candidates for the office.

Mr. William Marchant stands out as the most probable opponent of Mayor Porter, although Mr. Marchant has not yet decided whether or not entering the field is still remote. Brig-General R. P. Clark, whose name has been persistently mentioned as a possibility for the mayoralty election, and who has been repeatedly asked to run not only in this contest but in previous ones, stated last night that while he would not state a definite answer it was not at all likely that he would stand.

Mr. George McGregor, who headed the ill-fated Progressive ticket two years ago and withdrew prior to the election, says that he hasn't time for the office and that it is a pretty safe surmise that he will not run.

Another "Dark Horse"
The fourth prospective candidate, Ald. W. J. Sargent, is non-committal. He says he has not thought about running for alderman yet. Last year Ald. Sargent was a "dark horse" until ex-Ald. Joseph Patrick was nominated, and that the trouble is that one of the big guns behind the campaign of his fellow-alderman.

"A few months ago I was thinking very seriously of running for mayor," he says. "I was not sure about it now, but I must admit that a great many people have been urging me to run. Frankly, I think there should be some opposition at the next election. The trouble is that the people's minds are so filled up with disarmament conference, Federal politics and the Legislature that they are overlooking the municipal situation. A lively campaign would bring a lot of important issues to the front."

Mr. Marchant was a candidate for the Comox-Alberni riding in the approaching election, but it is likely that he will withdraw in order that his name might go before the opposition convention. Since then he has abandoned the idea of running, and he has definitely declined to stand an aldermanic candidate.

BLAMES LEGISLATURE FOR TAX SITUATION

Ald. Todd Says City Court Revision is Not Responsible—No More "Rush Legislation" Wanted

Ald. A. E. Todd, chairman of the Legislative Committee of the City Council, yesterday issued a statement asserting that the Provincial Legislature is chiefly to blame for Victoria's present assessment situation.

"An attempt is being made to hold the aldermanic court of revision responsible for Victoria's present land assessment situation. The facts are that the responsibility rests chiefly upon the Provincial Legislature. It is an attempt to shift the blame to the lowest rung, climbed to the top so surely and so rapidly, who is so revered and respected, not alone by Canadians but by all Britons who have a broad vision, as Arthur Meighen, who has added to the lustre of Canada as few men have done in the last decade."

"We have all got to look forward or else we go back. Certain interests have resuscitated from the political cemetery the bugbear misnamed 'revision.' It is a relic of the past and should never be seriously considered in relation to the advancement of Canada. The only country where revision is a practice."

"It is a crying shame, a crime, that in Canada, backed by her tremendous resources, there should be a single man looking for work. There is a remedy and it will be found if we get down to a sane and sober policy of industrial protection so that some inducement will be given for capital to come in and become established within Canada. Six hundred American industrial concerns have established in Canada. That is due to protection, and even at that Canada has the lowest tariff in any country."

Mr. King's Part
"They can go on prating about Canada's debt. Let me tell you that with the war burdens out of the way, Canada's debt would be lower today than it was before the war. We can be quite truthful and admit that Mackenzie King didn't help any in adding to the war debt, but I doubt if there is anything to be proud of. It is considerably more difficult, I should say, to manage a nation like Canada through the greatest war in history, than it is to look after the Rockefeller Institute."

Mr. C. T. Cross, chairman of the Victoria branch of the National Liberal and Conservative Association, alluded to Dr. Toimie's record, and declared that he stood acknowledged as the finest Minister of Agriculture Canada ever had. He said it was a pity that a content had been inevitable, but he felt confident that there was no doubt as to the result.

Mayor Porter was among those on the platform.

CANADIAN FARMER OFF AT HIGH WATER

NANAIMO, Nov. 14.—The C.G.M.M. steamer Canadian Farmer, which grounded yesterday at low water while loading coal here, was floated during the night and is reported to have suffered no damage. For some reason the ship was out of the regular channel, and kept too far in towards the shore, with the result that she stranded to the north of "King Edward," as the small island left from the dredging operations in the harbor, is known locally.

Unhappy of the occasions referred to, excepting the last, had I the slightest assistance from any of the present Provincial representatives of Victoria.

Unjust Criticism
"In the foregoing statement there is no intimation of undue bias in the Legislature, for war and post-war conditions caused legislation that in normal times would not have been conceived. It, however, is unjust for members of the Legislature to now cast reflections upon the city assessor or the court of revision, who, from time to time, have simply been endeavoring to carry out the laws and principles that the Legislature must accept the responsibility for having enacted."

That there must be considerable equalization and reasonable reduction in the aggregate amount of Victoria's land assessment is beyond dispute. This is something that is probably unanimously admitted by the city assessor and by every member of the City Council, and undoubtedly such action will be taken in 1922.

"Though there are many arguments in favor of an independent court of revision, yet there is no necessity for hasty legislation upon this point; a decision should not be hurriedly arrived at least more harm than good should result. No more 'rush legislation' is wanted concerning municipal administration."

SAYS TARIFF WILL WIN PEACE VICTORY

Unity Won War and Unity Will Solve Present Problems Before Canada, Meighen Speakers Assert

Stripped of her war burdens, Canada's national debt would be less today than it was before the conflict, according to Mr. C. C. Noakes, noted authority on tariff questions, who addressed a meeting in the Pantages Theatre last night under the auspices of the National Liberal and Conservative Association.

"Unity in Canada and fair play to all" was the slogan behind the Meighen Government, declared Mr. Alexander Thomson, who acted as one of Lloyd George's lieutenants in the contest that won Great Britain over to Coalition government in the early days of the war. Mr. Thomson said that the return of the Meighen Government, and urged every thinking man and woman who wished to see an end of partisan wrangling and small politics, to fight work and vote for Hon. S. F. Toimie.

"Canada has come through the war not only covered with glory, but on a basis of economic solidarity that is equalled by no other country which stood the strain of the struggle so long," asserted Mr. Noakes, who was introduced as having been right-hand man to the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Britain's greatest Colonial Secretary.

"Whether free trader or tariff reformer, the ideal of every true Canadian must be Canada's foremost among the nations, the crown of all the Dominions, the greatest lever by which the British Empire may lift itself to such a vantage point that its work may continue to be the advancement of the property and happiness of the whole world and humanity," continued Mr. Noakes.

Most Strengthened Trade
"Such an end may be accomplished only by strengthening the bulwarks of Canadian trade, by insuring that Canada's industries remain strong and expand. Canada needs industrial protection now as never before."

"If I claim without the slightest fear of contradiction that among the political stalwarts of the time there never was a man who, beginning at the lowest rung, climbed to the top so surely and so rapidly, who is so revered and respected, not alone by Canadians but by all Britons who have a broad vision, as Arthur Meighen, who has added to the lustre of Canada as few men have done in the last decade."

COUNCIL SPEEDS UP NEW MOVE FOR RELIEF

Will Meet Today Instead of Tomorrow—Prepare Resolutions to Rush to Other Municipalities

Having been advised that the Legislature is likely to adjourn next week, members of the City Council decided yesterday to hurry their final resolutions on municipal finance and advanced the meeting originally scheduled for Friday one day.

This afternoon at 2:30 the City Council will meet in special session to consider the resolutions drafted Tuesday afternoon by a committee composed of the Legislative Committee and the chairmen of the Finance and Streets Committees.

Yesterday afternoon the resolutions were mimeographed, so that they can be rushed away tonight to the various municipalities of the Province for early endorsement—that is to say, if the Council approves of them at its meeting today.

Dismissed by the municipal relief clauses in Hon. John Hart's budget speech, the City Council feels that further efforts should be made to force the Legislature into recognition of the municipalities' claims, and the resolutions to be dealt with today are in line with that contention.

Following the Council meeting the Streets Committee, composed of the Council as a whole, will meet. The Revised Lands Committee will hold a session afterwards. The usual Friday meetings have been cancelled.

LOCAL G. W. V. A. WILL TERMINATE

Victoria Ex-Service Organization Will Secede From Dominion Command in View of Amalgamation

By a large majority, the Victoria branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, the first returned men's organization formed in Canada, Tuesday night decided to break away from the Dominion Command of the G. W. V. A. to go out of existence by, if possible, the end of this month, and to return the association's charter to the Dominion organization.

This decision was reached at a largely attended meeting of the local G. W. V. A. Branch, presided over by Comrade W. N. Winby. The meeting determined, with but six comrades recording their vote in opposition, to carry out the ultimatum given several weeks ago when the local branch was asked to state whether it would secede from the organization if the Dominion Convention recently held in Port Arthur should fail to endorse immediate amalgamation.

President Winby stated that the meeting had been called to decide the association's final attitude on amalgamation. He reviewed the work that the G. W. V. A. had carried on here, but declared that it was impossible, owing to the present financial condition of the branch, for the association to continue to exist.

The president said that three reasons were responsible for a small minority of returned men not being enthusiastic with the union movement. Several ex-service men's organizations were hoping to be in a position to sell beer in the immediate future, others were considering that the important question now is "to beer or not to beer," while the securing of the canteen funds by different bodies has not helped the cause of amalgamation, Colonel Winby said.

"It has been said that if seven members of the association wished to retain the charter, the constitution could not be sent back to the Dominion Command. That report is an absolute fallacy," said the speaker. "If the majority of this meeting wishes to send the charter back in objection through 'to beer or not to beer,' while the securing of the canteen funds by different bodies has not helped the cause of amalgamation, Colonel Winby said.

The speaker stated that the organization had done well, but has failed in its objective through "lack of unity." "I believe that the Amalgamated Veterans Association is the beginning, in the West, of the Canadian Legion, and I think that the amalgamation body will, when the time is opportune, join the proposed Legion," he said.

Advice Caution

Comrade W. G. Stone asked the members to deal with the amalgamation problem from every angle. He said that there were two schools of thought in the union matter. Some were saying that amalgamation should be accepted through the Dominion commands of the organizations, while others were willing "to scrap everything over night and take a chance on whatever happened."

"I feel that the amalgamation plans have been made, but have been more than a provisional move. You are giving too much attention to local union, instead of to the Dominion-wide amalgamation," he said. Mr. Stone stated that he was not taking issue with any member of the association or of the amalgamation committee, but urged the meeting to "go to the limit."

On the motion of Comrade Leighton, the meeting voted to pass out of existence and give the executive power to make the necessary arrangements.

Favors Beer Clause
The gathering endorsed the Moderation League's request that the Provincial Government amend the B. C. Liquor Act to permit the sale of beer by the glass.

The Oriental problem was considered fully, and the meeting went on record asking all ex-service men and their dependents to refrain from purchasing goods from Asiatics and also to refuse to patronize those who persist in employing men to the exclusion of ex-service men.

The Deputy-Minister of Railways and Canada at Ottawa will be asked to inform the association in what capacity and on what G. T. F. boats are Chinamen employed, as well as the wages they are receiving.

A communication from Colonel F. A. Robertson, P. S. O., asking for the G. W. V. A.'s endorsement of the weekly community projects at the Drill Hall, was read. The proposal was heartily approved.

ENTHUSIASTIC CROWD GREETED MR. DICKIE

Large Audience at Keating Applauds Speech of Unionist Candidate for Nanaimo Riding

An enthusiastic gathering greeted Mr. C. H. Dickie at Keating Hall on Wednesday night when he presented his views to the electors of that district. A vote of confidence in the Liberal-Conservative candidate was passed unanimously by the meeting. Mr. W. O. Wallace occupied the chair. There was a large number of ladies present.

Mr. Leonard Tait, who was the first speaker, dealt with the question of the tariff from its historical point of view and pointed out that Canada had always prospered under a protective tariff. He declared that Mr. Meighen was the most clear-headed statesman and best leader Canada has ever produced, and ranked high in the judgment of the world, while Mr. Mackenzie King was an untalented leader who had no record behind him that would recommend him to the country. He stated that Mr. Meighen had never wavered from his declared policy, but had consistently advocated a policy of protection for Canada from the time of his coming to the Northwest. The Liberal leader and the leader of the so-called Progressives had varied their programmes in Quebec, Ontario and again in the Prairie Provinces.

Tariff Brings Prosperity
Speaking of the tariff policy of the present government, Mr. Tait said that no country can prosper as regards its manufacturing and industrial life without a protective policy that would build its industries and foster its manufactures. He cited the example of Germany, and said that previous to the war that country had almost captured the markets of the world because it had adopted a policy of protection for its own industries, while Britain had maintained free trade.

"There is no reason for blaming the Meighen Government for the present unemployment," said Mr. Tait, "because we are simply reaping the aftermath of the great war, and there is less unemployment in Canada than in any other country. There is less unemployment in Canada than there is in the city of New York alone."

In speaking of Mr. Dickie, Mr. Tait said he had lived in the district for thirty years and there was nobody who could rise up and say a word against him. "Your interests will be safe in his keeping," he said.

Mr. Dickie Applauded

Mr. C. H. Dickie, was greeted with applause when he rose to speak. He said he was pleased to see so many ladies present and felt sure that the support of the district would be given on election day to him as a supporter of the Meighen administration. He said he had been a protected man all his life, but that he was going to Ottawa in the interest of the constituency as a whole and would support every good measure presented to Parliament.

He had been asked often why the party he represented has chosen the name of "Liberal-Conservative," and said that it was because there were so many of the best supporters of the old Liberal party who could not follow their leaders on the questions that had come before the country during the late war and had thrown in their lot with the Unionist Government and out of consideration for them the name had been adopted.

In the matter of the country's fiscal policy Mr. Dickie declared himself firmly behind the present administration in its policy of a protective tariff for Canada, and said that if a policy of free trade were adopted the United States with its 118 millions of people would absorb the industries of Canada with its eight millions. The industries of the United States are thoroughly organized, while Canadian industries are in their infancy and needed protection.

He cited Abraham Lincoln as one of the most astute statesmen of his time, who had said, "When we buy goods from a foreign country, we get the goods but they get the money; but when we buy goods from our own manufacturers we get the goods and the money stays in the country." This applies to Canada, said Mr. Dickie, and if a policy of free trade should be adopted the industries of this country would be stifled and two millions of our population would be out of work.

Britain had always been a free trade country, but even British statesmen had found that they must raise a protection barrier against foreign competition and had legislated against the free importation of German goods into England, said Mr. Dickie.

Mr. Miller Speaks

The last speaker was Mr. E. Miller, who referred to Mr. Dickie as not being a politician but a plain business man who had the best interests of the constituency at heart and who would be the best representative that could be sent to Ottawa from the district. The issue, however, was not one of Mr. Dickie's personality but one that had been injected into the present state of unrest by the opposition and which was all important to the prosperity of Canada. The question of the tariff was before the country today, whether the followers of Mackenzie King denied it or not, and Canada had always voted against any retrogressive pact that would cripple its industries. He said that the men who are now so loudly disclaiming against the Government for lack of economy had never raised a voice in protest on the ground of economy in the affairs of the Province.

He believed that the people of Canada will make no mistake but will vote against the pernicious doctrine of free trade or retrogression, as they had always done in the past.

Death of Dr. Millman

ONE INCIDENT TO SHOW USE OF V.O.N.

Illustrating How Nurses Alleviate Conditions in Homes of the Poor—Why Appeal Is Made

Here is not an unusual case met by a Victorian Order nurse in Victoria. She entered a two-room house in which lived father, mother and eight children. The youngest of the children were twin girls about twenty-four hours old. The father had gone to work, and the mother lay wondering how the two additional little ones were to be fed and clothed. The eldest child was ill.

With great sympathy the nurse listened to the mother's story. The latter knew that she could have every confidence in the Victorian nurse. The visitor in theory tones told her not to worry, as some means would be found to help her.

When the nurse had finished attending to the mother she washed the twins. Then she washed the other children, still running around in the garments in which they had slept. Then she telephoned to the V.O.N. home for more clothes for the babies, for the mother had made provision for only one; also requested more clothes for the other children, and ordered some appetizing delicacies for the mother, tidied up the pitiable little home, cooked the meal, and assured the patient little woman she would be visited regularly until she was able to do for herself.

This is the kind of work in which the Victorian Order is daily engaged, the character of which has made it so many friends among those in need of cheer and comfort. This Order is now making its first general public appeal for assistance for financial aid, and it is expected that the request for assistance will be generously met.

TORONTO WRITER'S HIGHEST PRAISE FOR JASCHA HEIFETZ

"Such perfect communion between a musical instrument and a human being I have never heard," remarks a writer in The Toronto Saturday Night, reviewing a violin recital by Jascha Heifetz, who comes to the Royal Victoria Theatre on Monday, November 22, at 8 p.m. "He is immortal in the minds of those who heard him." So many critics have expressed the same thought that there can no longer be a question about this Russian's supreme art. "He went beyond violin playing," says The Chicago Journal, "and crossed the line of the impossible. We of the twentieth century have witnessed a miracle, for nothing like Heifetz's playing has been heard in anybody's recollection."

ANNUAL DINNER OF ISLAND MOTOR MEN

Representatives of Automobile Clubs Will Gather in Victoria at Yearly Conference Next Wednesday

The annual dinner and conference of the Automobile Clubs of Vancouver Island will be held in Victoria, on Wednesday, November 23, at the Dominion Hotel, at 7 p.m. Invitations have been sent to the various automobile clubs, the boards of trade and Municipal Councils on the Island to be present, while others interested in the gathering are invited to attend.

Representatives of the Cumberland, Courtenay, Nanaimo, Ladysmith and Duncan automobile organizations will also be in the city on Tuesday next for the conference, while it is expected that the Victoria Automobile Club will be well represented. No invitations are being issued to the local motor owners, but they are expected to be on hand and to send word to Secretary R. R. Webb, who is looking after the conference.

A number of important matters will be discussed at the conference, including the change in the rule of the road, the need of good roads and the preservation of the scenic beauties of the highways. Mr. Webb stated last night, "Local automobile men are looking forward to coming annual meeting as an occasion when the conditions and needs of the motorist on the Island will be thoroughly considered."

What's at the Playhouses?

THRILLING DRAMA
WAS PRESENTED

Miss Marie Lohr Received Tremendous Ovation in "The Voice From the Minaret" Last Night

"The Voice From the Minaret" could not have failed to touch a chord in the heart of each member of the audience at the Royal Victoria last night. For perfection of acting an extremely strong play last night's production could not have been surpassed, and Miss Marie Lohr, the magnet which drew the emotions of the very receptive witnesses throughout the prologue to the play, and the subsequent three acts, was assisted by a cast which, each in their respective parts, left nothing to be desired.

The prologue, opening with the picturesque scenery of Damascus, the luxuriousness of the East in the background, gradually reached the great climax of the scene: the reverence of the Orient manifested in the call of the muezzin summoning the people to prayers from the lofty, slender turret of the mosque, a call which brought Andrew Fabian, a young man who has hailed in Damascus, on a visit to the Holy Land, back to the realities of his life, which he finds a greater even than his infatuation for Lady Caryll (Marie Lohr), who has fled from India, from a cruel and malignant husband.

The story of these passionate lovers is unfolded in the prologue, and the double realization that their life in Damascus does not hold all in all. The first scene takes place six years after the visit in Damascus and portrays the life taken up by Fabian, now Vicar at Drebbridge-on-Sea. Herbert Marshall, who plays the part of Andrew Fabian, is complete master of his role, and the growth from the infatuated youth of the first scene to the powerful man of the last act is an admirable piece of acting.

The introduction of the husband, Sir Leslie Caryll (Bryan Powley) was the cause for several very dramatic situations, not the least of which was his sudden death after vowing vengeance on his wife and the clergyman whom he wished to ruin. The malicious vindictiveness of Sir Leslie was vividly portrayed.

For charm, finesse and intense magnetism, Miss Marie Lohr was unparalleled in the play which she herself expressed as her favorite production. At the conclusion of the last act she graciously addressed the house, after prolonged applause, and related that "The Voice From the Minaret" had played with tremendous success at the Globe Theatre for a year.

The same play will be repeated this evening, and tomorrow night "Her Destiny" will be presented, which drama was shown in London for one week previous to her departure for Canada, and comes with the highest approval from critics in England.

DOMINION Direct from Paris. Often one hears this said in regard to the clothes worn by feminine players in film productions. And often is it the case that the models thus referred to are six months or more old. But not so in the case of "Sacred and Profane Love," a William D. Taylor production for Paramount Pictures, which is again today, in which Elsie Ferguson plays the star role which she created on the sparkling stage. Calist evening gowns, wraps, head dresses, Lumiere models by Madeleine—all are displayed for the edification of Miss Ferguson's admirers. The latest word in fashion is a girl all women will gain from a visit to "Sacred and Profane Love." Arnold Bennett's powerful story tells of Carolea Peel, whose early affairs with Dixie, a pianist, finds culmination in the London Quarter of Paris where the genius has become an abject drunkard, only to be regenerated by self-sacrificing love. "Sacred and Profane Love" will be shown at the Dominion Theatre all week. Included in the cast are Conrad Nagel, Thomas Holden, Winifred Greenwood, Raymond Broadway, Clara Selwyn and Howard Gaye. Julia Crawford Ivers wrote the scenario, with James Van Trees in charge of the camera work.

VARIETY Ralph Ince production. "A Man's Home," is the feature film at the Dominion Theatre today. It is one of the best photoplays that has been here for some time. Briefly, the story tells of what happens to a rich man as immersed in his business that he lets his wife go her way; how she falls into the hands of a pair of slick adventurers and pays dearly for it, almost to the point of forcing a break of the marriage; planned for her daughter to the son of an aristocratic family. How the husband steps in and brings things around, how he finds happiness with his wife, makes a fine story, well rounded and ably produced. It is one of the pictures worth seeing.

CAPITOL The modern motion picture audience is made up of persons of all races, classes, ages and representatives of every profession, craft and trade. Therefore, the present-day audience is a critical aggregation, and in order that a picture may avoid serious criticism, it must be as nearly perfect as possible and the director's attention to detail is of the utmost importance. This was evidenced during the filming of a transfusion scene in William de Mille's latest production for Paramount, "After the Show." In order that this delicate surgical operation might be perfectly staged, three eminent surgeons were engaged to supervise the technical features of the scene. In the story, the transfusion of blood is made to save the life of a young woman, a man, who to awake a little chorus girl in a true sense of his paternal love for her, and save her from the primitive path, slanders his wife with a broken champagne bottle and loses so much blood from the wound that his life is in peril. This is one of the intense dramatic climaxes of this new production, which is from an original story by Rita Weisman, published in The Saturday Evening Post under the title, "The Stage Door," Charles

FINE PRODUCTION
AT THE DOMINION
NEXT MONDAY

Declared to be a screen masterpiece equal, if not superior, to his enormously successful production, "The Miracle Man," George Loane Tucker's last starring production is "Ladies Must Live," starring Betty Compson, and a well-known supporting cast of Paramount players, which will open at the Dominion Theatre Monday next. Although succumbing to a gradual and fatal illness, just as the final scenes were being shot, Mr. Tucker, lying on a stretcher, supervised the cutting of the 140,000 feet of film that was taken. This had to be reduced to the limited number of reels, when completed, experts asserted that the picture, from every standpoint, was the best picture production Mr. Tucker has ever made. "Ladies Must Live" is presented by The Mayflower Film Corporation as a Paramount Super-Special. The story was adapted from Alice Duer Miller's novel of the same title, in The Saturday Evening Post. The theme centres around one of the most widely discussed problems of the day, and vitally concerns every Canadian woman. Betty Compson, the stellar player, has a role equally prominent as that played by her in "The Miracle Man."

PRINCESS THEATRE
REOPENS MONDAY

Well Known Great War Veteran Announced as Business Manager of New Organization

As previously announced, the Princess Theatre will reopen on Monday, November 21, with Mr. Ambrose Turner as business manager and Mr. Oliver Eckhardt as stage director. It may surprise Victoria theatre patrons to know that Mr. Ambrose Turner is none other than a well known native son better known as Am. Turner, who was one of those who represented this city on the battlefields of France with distinction, and was severely wounded at the battle of Passchendaele, 1918, which has left him with a stiff leg.

As Mr. Turner is a capable business man the public can feel confident he and his brother, who are financially interested in the venture with him, will have success in their new venture. As already stated, the first successful move was to secure Mr. Oliver Eckhardt, of Chicago, as stage director. The very name of Eckhardt, it is claimed, spells success, as he is said to be known from the Atlantic to the Pacific as one of the ablest men in the profession. Mr. Eckhardt has directed both in stock and travelling companies. Commanding Mr. Eckhardt's ability as an actor is not needed, as the majority of theatre goers will remember his versatility, play or heavy or comedy. Mr. Eckhardt states he will give his audience a surprise next Monday night by giving Victoria the best stock plays it has ever had.

ALASKAN DOGS IN
"BUCKING THE TIGER"

Conway Tearle, who is starring in "Bucking the Tiger," the Selznick picture which comes to the Columbia Theatre today for a run of three days, is a great dog lover, and it is very rarely that he appears in a picture which has not at least one dog in it.

In the production Mr. Tearle drives one of the finest teams of malamutes to be found in Alaska, and worth several thousand dollars.

These dogs are very temperamental, and while they will maul over an incredible number of miles per day, and will draw a considerable load without complaint, they insist on kind treatment. Stazing will spoil the best dog in the team, and as soon as one dog shows signs of temper, his team mates follow suit promptly, and the result is that upon the slightest provocation the whole is a snarling mass.

The dogs, which have a considerable strain of wolf in them, do not always take kindly to a new master, and if they are not won over are very dangerous to handle. Mr. Tearle, however, experienced no difficulty with them, and after completing the scenes in which they appeared was very emphatic in his praise for his "bushies," as they are called in the Northwest.

These prize winning malamutes are owned by Mon. Jacques Suzanne, a trapper and prospector from the Hudson's Bay territory, and are brought down to Lake Placid every year for the big ice carnival, where they are always the centre of attraction.

Weilers Succumb to Work Point Eleven

Garrison Soccer Players Win Hard Game by Score of Four to Three — Spencers and Retail
Clerks Play to a Three-All Draw on Water-Soaked Ground Yesterday

The result of two very close games played yesterday afternoon in the Wednesday soccer league was that Weilers suffered their third defeat in a row, this time at the hands of the Garrison, who won by 4 goals to 3, and that Spencers and the Retail Clerks proved so evenly matched that their encounter ended in a draw of 3 goals all.

The Garrison met Weilers at Beacon Hill, and on the day's play certainly showed some superiority. But for some lack of shooting ability they should have won by more, but as it was the score is a very fair indication of the margin in their favor, even though two of their goals and one of Weilers were scored as the result of penalties. The Garrison have a fast team, and they showed quite good combination, and were very accurate in their passing all through. On not a few occasions, however, when they seemed to have the opposing goal at their mercy, they fell down in their shooting and let opportunities slip which should have resulted in improving their score.

On the other hand, two of their four goals were obtained as the result of really brilliant shots by their outside left, Henry, the first being an exceptionally fine shot from a good way out and at a difficult angle. It was one of those shots which might well have beaten the very best of goalkeepers, and Jelliman, who played well throughout, had little chance to save.

Weilers were not showing to nearly as good advantage as they have done in some previous matches, and gave the impression of being gone a little stale. Now and again they showed up in some good combination play, and McIlroy, at outside left, did some good work for them, including a fine shot for their first goal, but their backs were not up to par and were beaten time and again by the aggressive Garrison forwards.

Garrison Attack

In the first few minutes of the game the Garrison, playing with the slope in their favor, did most of the attacking, and with a little more speed and accuracy in their shooting might easily have been the first to score, but after they had had a couple of good chances the Weiler attack took the ball down to the other end, and McIlroy opened the scoring with a fine shot. The Garrison were speedily back on the attack, and a hot shot by their outside right was well stopped by Jelliman. Shortly after the Garrison again had the Weiler goal at their mercy and a score seemed inevitable, but the chance was not taken, and the ball again traveled up to the top end. Half way through the first half McIlroy received a kick in the face which sent him sprawling, but was speedily back in the fray.

The Garrison again brought the ball down in front of the Weiler goal, and a penalty was given them for holding. Kennedy took the kick successfully. Shortly afterwards the same player sent a short shot over the bar when the goal was at his mercy. For the rest of the half play was very even, and the half-time whistle went without further score.

Another Penalty

The second half had hardly started before the Garrison were awarded Kennedy's penalty kick, and they once more found the net, and the score of two to one was taken to three to one within a minute or two, when Henry brought off the spectacular shot mentioned above.

Weilers appeared a little disheartened, and the Garrison were playing with all kinds of confidence with the margin of two goals in their favor. Jelliman was called on to make three good saves in less than many minutes, and then Henry once more fully and successfully put the ball into the net, bringing the total to four to one in favor of the boys from Work Point. Weilers pulled themselves together, and started to play with more dash than at any prior stage of the game, but it was too late. Five minutes later Sweeton took a good centre and made no mistake in setting his opportunity, netting a second goal for Weilers. With about ten minutes or so left for play, Weilers were awarded a penalty kick, which was taken by Sweeton, and the Garrison lead was reduced to a single goal. For the rest of the game there was little to choose between the two teams, and the half-time whistle with the score standing at four to three in the Garrison's favor. Brown refereed, and the teams were as follows:

DO YOUR BOWELS

MOVE REGULARLY, OR DO THEY BECOME CONSTIPATED?

There is no medium through which disease can often attack the system, but by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and there is no other trouble which flesh is heir to that is more liable to be neglected, because material inconvenience may not be felt, at once, from irregular action of the bowels. When there is not regular action the retention of the decaying and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing violent sick and bilious headaches, internal bleeding or prostrating piles, heartburn, jaundice, etc.

Mr. Samuel Dunkley, Tatumagouche, S. B. writes: "For over a year I have suffered with constipation. I took several different kinds of medicine, but could only get temporary relief. I was told to try Mithurn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I procured two vials of this medicine after I had taken one I found that I was relieved of my trouble. I do not hesitate to recommend Laxa-Liver Pills for any kind of constipation."

Club Puts Players on Ice for Opening Game of Season—
Straith's Team Winners
Over Christie's Aggregation

The first hockey players to perform under the banner of the Gyro Club took the ice at the Arena last evening, a game being played between two teams of the organization. That the club has some good hockey material was evident from the start, the game being fast throughout. The teams were captained by Alex. Straith and Roland Christie, and the final score was 7-5 in favor of the Straith aggregation. Referee Louis Klassen called the offside rule to his aid in keeping the score as even as possible, the players accepting his unique rulings with meekness when threatened with a fine of $200 with an option of two months. Louis, before the game ended, took a hand in the play himself, scoring one of the goals for Christie's team. Ken Skeenie performed the duties of goalkeeper for Straith's team in the first part of the game, and then switched around and played for the other side, as without him each team had six men.

Straith and Collinson tied for scoring honors, each securing three goals. Butcher and Lundgren each got two, while one each was obtained by Kerr and Ellis.

The teams were:
Straith's team — Straith, Tom Lundgren, Jack Neill, Gordon Cameron, Jimmy Gray, K. Skeenie and C. Collinson.

Christie's team — W. Hudson, H. Butcher, A. Kerr, R. Christie, J. Bartholomew and W. Ellis.

WILL CONDUCT CLUB HANDICAP TONIGHT

Y. M. C. A. Swimming Organization Will Hold "Invitation Swim" on November 24 in
"Y" Pool

The Y.M.C.A. Swimming Club is holding a club handicap at the Y.M.C.A. swimming pool tonight, when all members of the organization are expected to take part. One of the chief events will be a 440 yards race, and taking into consideration the number of the long-distance swimmers that the club possesses, a good race should be run off.

Any swimmers are now being completed for the "Invitation Swim" which the club is holding next Thursday night. All bona fide members of any existing swimming organization in the city are invited to take part in the affair. There will be a number of impromptu events, among which will be a relay race, polo match and several fancy diving stunts.

The club started its programme for the winter last month, and progress made thus far has been very encouraging to the directors of the swimming organization. The members are rallying in large numbers at the weekly events, and a large crowd is expected at tonight's handicap, which, it is expected, will prove one of the most enjoyable club affairs of the season.

Other local swimming associations are taking an interest in the coming invitation swim, and are busily preparing to walk off with all the laurels on that occasion. The Y.M.C.A. boys are practicing faithfully and feel confident that when the time comes they will not be found wanting. They have been conducting these periodical club gatherings during the past month so that they will be in a position to defend the association's laurels without any thoughts of defeat.

The Employed Boys' Brotherhood is planning an ambitious programme of swimming events for the winter. The first weekly swim will be held tonight, when about fifty boys are expected to be on hand. Twelve events have been mapped out, and the boys who win the silver medal for the highest score throughout the winter.

Hockey Championship Emblem
Last Won by Canadiens Will Be Turned Over to the Ottawa Club

OTTAWA, Nov. 16.—The O'Brien Cup, originally the championship emblem of the National Hockey Association, will serve henceforth as that of the National Hockey League. Word to this effect has been received from President Calder of the N. H. L., who will turn the O'Brien Cup over at once to the Ottawa club. The O'Brien Cup was presented by Senator M. J. O'Brien, of Henfrew, after the victory of the Canadiens over the Eastern Canadian League into submission by organizing the National Hockey Association. When the National Hockey Association closed up shop several years ago to be succeeded by the National Hockey League, the O'Brien Cup was then held by the Canadiens.

Arrangements were made by President Calder this year, through J. A. O'Brien, to have the O'Brien Cup turned over to the N. H. L. Following the death of the late George Kennedy it was secured by President Calder, who is having it cleaned and polished, prior to its presentation to the Ottawa club.

The O'Brien Cup is made of solid silver from the famous O'Brien mines at Cobalt, and was valued at $1,800 when presented by Mr. O'Brien. A new deed of gift in being drawn up and a board of trustees will be appointed, subject to the approval of Senator O'Brien.

For the Normal, McIlroy, the Normal guard, also put in three points on penalties. The result of the game was: Oak Bay High School, 10; Normal School, 15.

Your old methods of teeth cleaning

See what this new way does. Watch your teeth whiten—note how clean they feel. Millions have learned in this way how much film removal means. It is something that you should know.

You must fight film

Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. It clings to the teeth unless you combat it, gets between the teeth and stays.

It forms a dingy coat which dims the luster of the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film. And, despite the daily brushing, very few escape them. The old brushing methods do not effectively fight film.

New ways to combat it

Dental science has now found ways to combat film. The methods are embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. It has proved so effective that leading dentists everywhere are now advising it. And millions of people have already adopted it.

The College crossed the High School line in the first half, after studying the wily three-quarter line of their opponents, and dodging the full-back. The game was for the most part evenly played, but the College boys had the superior team work, and it was obvious that they had the upper-hand in most of the play. The High School, however, put up a stout defense and fought valiantly through the game.

Having gained a free kick, McLennan neatly put the ball over the College bar, winning four points for the High School. The first half closed with the score standing eight to four.

Green, of the High School, made several valiant breaks, charging for short gains into the College line, but the stout defense of the Cadets brought the menacing runners down every time. Kelly, of the College, put up a splendid game, but the rushes he made were checked in time by Ed Lore, who also distinguished himself for the High School fifteen, although he was laid out once, and had his leg skinned badly.

McCallum and McLennan also showed speed and quick decision in all their play, but the High School, although the players are good individually, lack the combination that is necessary to make a competent fifteen. The one thing that the High School needs is practice, in the minds of the coach, Mr. Harry Smith, and other critics.

ESCAPED MEN
STILL AT LARGE

man's cell these four bars had been sawn through, and were hanging loose in their sockets when the guard was aroused. Superintendent Farant says that it would take one hour and a half to saw through any one of the steel bars, even with a due supply of hackaws and oil. That hackaws were actually used by Malone and Lynn is certain from the marks on the bars; but where the men got such saws is as yet an unsolved mystery.

It is certain, at any rate, that the work of sawing through the bars must have been carried on at intervals for several days. This fact, coupled with the deliberate actions of the men after they had throttled and bound Walker, lends color to the theory of the local police officers and the asylum guards that Lynn and Malone feigned insanity in order to carry out their project of escape on Vancouver Island under more propitious conditions than were to be found under the exclusively penal institutions of New Westminster.

While both the men have a lengthy criminal record, that of John Lynn is the history of a desperate criminal. He was convicted of murder by Mr. Justice Macdonald, at the Kamloops assizes, on October 1, 1913, and was sentenced to hang, which sentence was afterwards commuted to life imprisonment in the New Westminster penitentiary. He was shot by the guard while trying to escape from the penitentiary, on May 7, 1919, and was committed to the Wilkinson Road Asylum on May 7, 1919, on a medical certificate of his insanity.

His criminal record goes far back of the capital charge for which he was condemned at Kamloops, and includes a conviction for daylight robbery with violence in this city. He was convicted by the City Police Court by Magistrate Jay, in 1910, on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, and was sentenced to seven months' imprisonment. Later in the same year he was convicted by Judge Lampman on a charge of holding up the bartender of the Excelsior saloon, in those days located next to the New England Hotel, on Government Street, and was sent to prison for two years.

His career in the penitentiary was marked with the same characteristics as have distinguished him recently. He was concerned in a wholesale attempt of the convicts to escape, and was paroled in 1911 for turning King's evidence as to that exploit. He realized his restoration to liberty by a brutal assault on a woman in Vancouver, and for that crime was sentenced to six months' imprisonment on August 11, 1911.

The local police officers have records in their possession, and some of the older members of the force carry a clear recollection in their minds of Lynn's desperate character. While awaiting his transfer to the Mainland, following his conviction by Judge Lampman for the hold-up of the Excelsior saloon, Lynn escaped from the then lock-up of the city, and it was several days before he was caught at Sidney, where he was found working on a boat. His record in the United States includes a seven-year term for jail-breaking from the Montana State penitentiary, which was given him in August, 1909.

Rapier A. Malone, alias I. A. Cranshaw, alias Curtis, the partner of Lynn in the latter's latest break for liberty, was committed for trial in Vancouver last April on a charge of robbery with violence committed in that city in November, 1920. Malone was charged with holding up R. M. Blakely, the agent of the Imperial Oil Company, and with stealing $1,440 in cash and $20,000 in cheques.

Malone was committed to Okalla prison to await his trial at the assizes. While at Okalla he assaulted Guard McKercher, only a few days after he had entered the prison. On April 16 last, on an order issued by Mr. Justice Morrison, Malone was taken before the Supreme Court for an examination as to the sanity of the prisoner, and by order of the court was committed to the mental hospital for observation. Later he was brought from the Mainland to the Wilkinson Malone also has a criminal record in the United States. He was committed for trial in Kansas City on April 12, 1912, on a charge of burglary, and evaded punishment by breaking his bond (the sum of $1,000, and escaping from the state. In the same year he returned to Missouri, and was given a sentence of 90 days on a charge of obtaining money by false pretences. In November, 1913, he was fined in the sum of $300 for a similar offence in the same city. In Toronto, in 1917, he was remanded on a charge of vagrancy, and was later deported to the United States.

Will Probe Mystery Of Canadian Importer

Marine Court Will Sit at Vancouver Next Week
to Investigate Mishap to C. G. M. M. Steamer—
One of Assessors to Be Marine Engineer
—Inquiry Probably on Monday Next

The long deferred inquiry into the mysterious mishap to the Canadian Government Merchant Marine steamer Canadian Importer, in mid-Pacific last August, has at last been ordered. Captain J. D. MacPherson, Dominion Wreck Commissioner for British Columbia, announced yesterday that he has been instructed by the Minister of Marine, Ottawa, to proceed with the investigation, which will be held at Vancouver next week, probably on Monday, if all arrangements for the sitting of the Marine Court can be completed by that time.

One of the nautical assessors, in accordance with the instructions from Ottawa, will be a marine engineer holding a first-class certificate. It is expected that either Mr. J. Downie, marine surveyor, of Vancouver, or Mr. Edmonds, superintendent of the Vancouver Ferries, will serve in that capacity. The other assessor will probably be Captain A. P. W. Williamson, also of Vancouver.

Departure From Precedent
This will be the first time that an engineer has ever served as assessor in a marine investigation on the Coast, although it has not been uncommon in Board of Trade proceedings in Great Britain. The departure in this instance has been made owing to the necessity of expert knowledge of engine-room matters, in view of the peculiar features of the accident and the practical certainty that the source of the trouble was in the engine-room.

The decision of the Government comes at a time when there was no longer any expectation in Coast shipping circles that an investigation would be held. An inquiry was, in fact, ordered a month ago, but cancelled again almost immediately for unknown reasons. The question of expense, added to the probable failure of the probe in clearing up the whole mystery, probably has a good deal to do with it. It is understood, however, that the underwriters have been calling for a thorough investigation, not because negligence of any kind would absolve them of the costs of the mishap, but as a matter of policy towards unexplained disasters of the sea, and with at least some hope of fixing the blame for the occurrence.

The former officers of the Canadian Importer are all available at Vancouver, it is believed, although it is more than two months since she reached here under tow. It is not known how many of them, if any, are still with the vessel. In any case it is not likely that the inquiry will hinder her from sailing. She is not expected to come here to reload her cargo until next week at the earliest.

LOGS SCATTERED IN PATH OF SHIPPING

The British steamer Pilar de Larrinaga, belonging to the Miguel de Larrinaga Steamship Company, Ltd., reported to the Gonzales Hill radio station at 4:40 p.m. yesterday having passed through a scattered drift of lumber logs at 2 p.m. coast time, five miles W.N.W. magnetic from New Dungeness lighthouse. Captain Thompson, master of the Larrinaga, said that the logs varied from twelve to forty feet in length, and were a menace to navigation. Shipping has been warned accordingly by radio broadcast.

HONOR DEAD OF MERCHANT SHIPS

Monuments to Be Erected at Vancouver and Halifax Will Bear Names of Mariners
Who Fell in Action

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—The names of members of the crews of the Canadian registered merchant vessels who lost their lives at sea during the war as a result of enemy action are to be immortalized on monuments erected by the Imperial War Graves Commission at Halifax and Vancouver. In order to secure a complete list, the Naval Department is communicating with the owners of all Canadian ships lost during the war and will be pleased to receive any information from officials of the company who have not been communicated with.

NIPPON TRAMP SHIPS NO LONGER AVAILABLE

Japanese Owners After No
More Charters From This Coast—Other Trade Routes
Thought More Favorable

SEATTLE, Nov. 16.—No more Japanese tramp steamships are to be available for cargoes at North Pacific Coast ports, according to brief cable messages from the Japanese Steamship Owners' Association at Tokyo yesterday. While the action of the Japanese, unexplained as is customary with them, was the subject of discussion in some quarters, it is held not to be unusual, and is believed to have been influenced by the more advantageous use of their tramp vessels in other trade routes. This announcement will not affect the regular Japanese steamship services operating here. The fact that most of the tramp ships coming to North Pacific ports arrived here in ballast, thus being assured of but one way cargoes, leads chartering agents and operators here to believe that some other world market offering at least part cargoes both ways has been discovered by the Japanese. All tramp ship charters closed with Japanese prior to yesterday will be operative, according to the message, but no new parties will be negotiated for an indefinite period. The closing of the Japanese tramp ship market had not the slightest tendency to raise charter rates yesterday, and some speculation is indulged in as to the effect of this action. It is claimed that there is sufficient available tonnage to handle all the cargo offerings to the Orient at least until next March.

British Ships Available

In addition to the diverting of several British tramp steamships sent to this Coast ostensibly for the Pacific Ocean service to the Orient may also have some bearing on the situation, though the British entry into the trans-Pacific trade is not believed to have any bearing on the Japanese action yesterday. Within the past month Japanese ships have dominated the Pacific charter reports for lumber to Japan, China and Australia. Out of twenty-five vessels chartered during November, the Japanese have provided twenty. The balance is made up of four American and one Danish. All are for lumber excepting the American wooden motorship Donna Lane, she has been chartered by Vancouver interests to carry a cargo of herring from Barclay Sound to Japan.

HAD BAD COUGH AND SORE THROAT

Never neglect a cough or cold, however slight. If you do, it can have but one result; it leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected. A single dose of will help to stop the cough, soothe the throat, and if the cough or cold has become settled on the lungs the healing virtues of the Norway pine tree, along with the soothing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs, roots and barks, promptly eradicates the bad effects and the persistent use cannot but help to bring about relief. Mr. Albert Marshall, Lower L'Anse-au-Loup, writes: "About a year ago I contracted a cold accompanied by a very bad cough and sore throat. I sent for the doctor, but what he prescribed did me no little good. I began to get discouraged. A friend came to see me and asked me if I had ever used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I told him I had not and sent him right away to get me a bottle. After I found I was getting better, and after taking two bottles the soreness in my throat seemed to be leaving me, so I renewed the use of the syrup. I took three more bottles and my cough and sore throat were gone. I would not be without Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Price, 50c and 40c a bottle; put up only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. (Advt.)
NORWAY PINE SYRUP

GRAIN CARGOES ARE GETTING NUMEROUS

VANCOUVER, Nov. 14.—Grain lookings to Japan and the United Kingdom through this port for November, December and January are now in excess of 45,000 tons. To Japan 24,000 tons have been booked or shipped, and to the United Kingdom 19,500 tons, or a total of 43,500 tons. The grain brokers are still busy and hope before long to have this figure considerably increased. The Japanese movement seems to be most active. Already one lot of 2,500 tons of sacked wheat has been forwarded to Japanese ports, and the following bookings show the space already closed, but not yet shipped: 5,000 tons for November, December and January; 3,000 tons for December and January; 2,500 tons for November; 2,000 tons for December; a total of 24,000 tons booked or shipped. For the United Kingdom there has been 2,000 tons bulk wheat shipped this week, with the following lots closed for December and January: 3,500 tons; 5,000 tons; 10,000 tons; a total of 15,500 tons shipped by booked. The two movements make 42,500 tons. Last year the entire movement was 14,000 tons of bulk wheat to England.

DENIAL OF CHARGE IS MADE BY REEVE

Esquimalt Head Appears Before Trades and Labor Council in Regard to Drydock Employment

A straight denial that men employed on the drydock work received his "ok," before getting jobs, was made by Reeve Lockley, of Esquimalt, before the Trades and Labor Council last night. He was present personally to reply to the claim made in a letter to Hon. S. P. Tolmie sent from the Council, alleging that men had to receive his endorsement before being employed on drydock construction and that the motive behind this was doubtless political.

If he was charged with helping the workers in his own district, said the Reeve, he pleaded guilty. If he was charged with using political influence he was not guilty. The Esquimalt Council had, in an effort to deal with the unemployment problem, asked the contracting company to give Esquimalt men preference on the drydock. As far as he personally was concerned, he had not given any man a card or recommended him for employment. The Council had sent a list of Esquimalt men to the employment bureau, which had replied that it could accept no such list and that the men wishing work would have to apply in person at the employment office.

Secretary Woodward stated that it was a well-known fact that a call could be sent through the labor bureau for certain men and those asked for could be obtained.

Several delegates pointed out that they knew that the bureau sent out to the drydock job the men who were asked for by name.

The Council decided to ask the executive to present a confidential report on the matter.

Alderman Todd Speaks

Alderman Todd was present at the meeting and explained the recommendations of the Civic Reform Committee, of which he was chairman. Mr. Todd did not believe that Victoria could do better than stick by the present system of a council, with modifications, rather than change to a commission or managerial form of municipal government. Asked if he favored the recall, the alderman said that he did, provided that it was made difficult enough to secure such a recall, otherwise it might be abused. It was decided that the executive should call a special meeting to discuss the matter.

The Council passed the resolution moved by Delegate Orr, asking the City Council to erect the old railway bridge at Rock Bay.

Delegate Moriarty brought up the matter of labor candidates in the coming civic elections. He wanted the Trades Council informed as to the stand which the various aldermen had taken on matters pertaining to labor throughout the year so that labor could endeavor to defeat those not in sympathy with it. Delegate Moriarty attacked the Victoria and Island Development Association, claiming that its work was overlapped by that of the Northwest Tourist Association and the Chamber of Commerce. He declared that if the matter of voting $15,000 as the city's grant to this organization this year had been put to the electorate, sanction of such an outlay would never have been secured. The amalgamation of the Development Association and the Chamber of Commerce was recommended by the delegate. There was considerable argument over the matter of the Trades Council endorsing labor candidates for the civic elections, and the matter was left over.

There was also considerable discussion as to whether labor should be represented in the Chamber of Commerce. The Trades Council has paid a year's dues for the president. Delegate Moriarty claimed that the Chamber was an organization of employers and that labor should keep away. Secretary Woodward took exception to this, stating that the presence of labor candidates in the Chamber had been a good thing, and that meeting men around the conference table never did any harm.

Nothing was done in the matter.

President Resigns

The resignation of President Christian Sivert was received, as the reorganization of the postal workers automatically removed him from the list of delegates. The resignation was accepted with regret, and it was decided to ask Mr. Sivert to continue to represent the Council in the Chamber of Commerce. The election of a new president was left over until the annual elections in January. In the meantime Vice-President Nunn will act as head of the Council.

The following resolution was passed by the Council regarding taxation:

"Resolved, that this Trades and Labor Council reaffirms its conviction that all taxation should conform to the following fundamental principles:

1. That each citizen should contribute according to the exclusive privileges he enjoys at the hands of the community, the value of such privileges being automatically measured by the value of his land; and
2. That each should further contribute according to his ability to pay, measured by his income, in excess of a living wage, such living wage being granted statutory exemption from taxation.

It is further resolved that this Council place on record its emphatic objection to the perpetuation of the personal property tax and all other taxation which does not conform to the above-mentioned basic principles, and its strong protest against the proposal to abolish the present humane and absolute necessary exemption of small incomes."

The Council passed a resolution disapproving of the Dominion Government's plan to aid in the solving of the unemployment problem, and asking that it pay one-third of the cost of any work necessary for relief purposes.

The matter of the formation of a union label league, as recommended by the Trades and Labor Congress, was referred to the executive.

AMALGAMATED BODY WILL MEET TONIGHT

Nomination of Officers of New Organization Will Be Made—Comrade Twigg Will Present Report

The second meeting of the newly-organized Amalgamated Veterans' Association will be held tonight at 8 o'clock, in the Trades Hall, Broad Street. Only members who have signed the application forms and paid the requisite enrolment fee will be admitted to the gathering. Considerable enthusiasm has been shown in the amalgamation movement since the first meeting of the association, and a big turnout is expected tonight.

As quite a number who have recently enrolled appear to favor the Canadian Legion, which has been started in Toronto, with a membership of over 70,000 ex-servicemen, Comrade H. Despard Twigg, who attended the Dominion convention of the Army and Navy Veterans, will speak tonight on the progress that the Legion has made to date, as well as present a report on the amalgamation situation in Eastern Canada.

Arrangements for tonight's meeting were completed at a meeting of the Provisional ex-Servicemen Amalgamation Committee, which met yesterday in the G.W.V.A. rooms, with Comrade H. Macdonald in the chair. It was decided that the nomination of officers will be proceeded with, while it will be for the meeting to decide whether the officials will also be elected tonight or not.

Five hundred ex-servicemen have joined the Amalgamated Veterans' Association in Victoria, including a number of veterans who served in the Crimean and South African wars. The members of the Esquimalt Naval

Women of Canada

"I ask from all the people of Canada an earnest review of the real issue before Canada today. I ask from men and women a calm, thoughtful consideration of serious public questions; and, so far as I am concerned myself, I ask not favors but fairness."—ARTHUR MEIGHEN.

WOMEN OF CANADA, the coming General Election will be one of the most momentous in Canadian history, and Arthur Meighen asks YOU to give the issue fair, unbiased consideration.

Women and men alike are called upon to decide whether political, industrial and economic stability is to be replaced by class rule, political and industrial chaos and possible economic bankruptcy.

The facts are clear, and every Canadian woman will do her own thinking. She will not be misled by others. She will not blindly follow family political precedent, neither will she be carried away by the false theories or empty "isms" of theorists and extremists. Every woman will arrive at a personal decision by the application of practical common sense.

The great issue is the Tariff and here are briefly the facts.

The present Canadian Tariff, so far as it affects the necessities of life, is a very moderate one. It is simply a tariff maintained to keep Canadian factories in Canada, employing a steadily increasing volume of Canadian labor and developing Canadian resources.

Meighen stands firm for the continuance of a reasonable tariff. It is now even more imperative than in the past. All other important countries are retaining or increasing their tariffs in order that they may hold their home markets for their own people.

Under Crerar's Free Trade policy Canada would be swamped with foreign goods, principally from the United States. Canadian industry would be ruined, thousands of men and women would be out of work with all the hardships to themselves and their children that must result. The farmer's great home market would be seriously affected, taxes would be increased, and Canadian working men would have to go to the United States for employment.

While King's Tariff policy is wobbly it nevertheless tends toward the destruction of the Tariff and would bring with it practically the same results.

MEIGHEN'S POLICY EVERYBODY KNOWS. It is the only means whereby confidence may be maintained and employment given to all classes of the people.

The foregoing is a plain statement of logical conclusions arrived at from the facts. Think the matter over carefully "without favor but with fairness."

Make your own decision, stand by it unmoved and be sure to exercise your vote.

DEPLORES LAXITY OF MODERN MARRIAGES

Rev. Father Wood Also Criticizes Excesses in Present-Day Feminine Attire in Address to Women

The laxity of modern views regarding the sacredness of marriage, and the excesses of present-day feminine attire, were deplored by Rev. Father Anselm Wood in an address which he gave last evening before the Catholic Women's League at a well-attended meeting at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

"Catholicism and Social Work" was the subject of Father Wood's address. He first outlined the meaning of social work as being that effort which was concerned with the general welfare of society. Social work was designed to provide every member of society with all that was necessary for material happiness. The speaker then outlined the elements that went to make up material happiness.

Father Wood spoke of religion, morality, economic conditions and politics, and their effect on social conditions. Religion guided man in all that he did. Morals were concerned with man's behavior. Religion was not only from a religious point of view but from the social point of view, as they had a bad effect on the community. Immoral people injured the general welfare of the community.

Referring to the economic problem, Father Wood indicated that the unequal distribution of money was responsible for individual suffering. A great many of the difficulties with regard to employment were due to the unequal distribution of money. He treated in some detail the question of production and distribution, value, fair price and exchange. The actual conduct of a government had a very serious effect on the community as well as on individual happiness. If a government were seriously concerned with the happiness and welfare of the people, that had its beneficial results.

To Catholics these matters had special interest, as they looked at them from the special viewpoint of their faith, which taught them that they must be good citizens, that they must do their best to promote the welfare of all those around them. This sprang from the practice of a divine charity. But it was not merely a question of producing useful citizens in the material sense; the good Catholic was bound to practice charity because of his belief that God made not only the Catholic but everyone else.

In conclusion, the speaker urged every member of his audience to take a genuine interest in the social problems of the hour, and to do everything possible to alleviate distress among the poor.

The vote of thanks to Father Wood was moved by Mrs. E. H. Fletcher, seconded by Mrs. Gourlay.

This farm will carry about forty dairy cows, four horses, and a sufficient number of hogs to take care of surplus feed. The buildings are in perfect condition. The main residence contains eight bedrooms, large living-room, dining-room, kitchen, two bathrooms; cement basement, with laundry tubs, etc., etc. A perfect system of hot water heating and wired for electric lighting. Five of the bedrooms contain washbasins, with hot and cold water laid on. In addition there are three farm cottages, two with bathrooms complete, the third cottage has the water laid on only. Septic tanks are installed and connected with all buildings.

First-class brick dairy; 28-stall concrete dairy barn; calf pen for twelve calves; large stable, 56 x 120, that can be converted into dairy barn; bull pen, implement sheds, loft room for crop and hay, etc. Figgery plant can be converted if desired to handle one thousand head of poultry, or restored to take care of one hundred and fifty hogs. With an additional building, 45 x 90, that is ideal for sows with litters, or would serve as an excellent brooder house for poultry. There are two wells that have never failed present tank capacity, 7,500 gallons. The wells easily produce 10,000 gallons in 24 hours. Water is laid to all buildings, likewise to every field on the farm.

This delightful property will be for rent to a desirable tenant on and after December 1. The E. & N. Railway runs to Cobble Hill. The farm is one and one-half miles from the station. The man in charge will be pleased to show you the land and buildings.
